

To Whom It May Concern,

It is my pleasure to give Bounce Boot Camp the greatest level of recommendation. We used Bounce Boot Camp for our annual event, the Run to Fight Children's Cancer at Grand Canyon University. Our event has an attendance of 4,000 runners and their families, many with small children. We contracted Bounce Boot Camp for our post-race festival to provide interactive activities for the kids. They are easily the most popular attraction at our festival. They are able to actively engage large groups of children at one time while also creating a fun and fit atmosphere.

One of the things we enjoyed the most was that Thomas, the owner, and his staff were not just supervising, but also facilitating the activities. They were doing drills, having the kids race through the obstacle courses and even had them doing arm workouts with the rope. Having a fitness program built around inflatables is one of the most innovative ideas we have come across and our race participants really enjoyed having them at our event. We will definitely continue to have them at our race each year.

Sincerely,

Jose Moreno
